

COURT OVERRULES
SULZER CHALLENGE OF FOUR SENATORS

Frankley, Wagner, Kumpferger and Sinner Will Retain Their Seats.

Albany, N. Y. Sept. 15.—Governor Sulzer's lawyers lost their fight in the high court of impeachment today when the four senators challenged by the defense were permitted to retain their seats.

The vote which was on the question of whether the court should overturn the challenges was unanimous against such procedure.

The four senators directly concerned—Frankley, Wagner, Kumpferger and Sinner—did not vote.

Immediately following the vote, reading of the long articles of impeachment was started.

Although Presiding Judge Cullen had the right to decide the question of the qualifications of the senators for holding their seats, he did not take advantage of his prerogative.

His first expressed his opinion that the objections were not well grounded and then permitted the entire court to vote.

In addressing the court, Judge Cullen said no court had the right to sit in judgment on any one of its members.

The vote came after a forenoon of legal argument between Judge Herrick and Parker, representing the defense and the prosecution respectively.

Herrick Argues Case.

Judge Herrick's chief argument was that no man might sit both prosecutor and judge. In response Judge Parker said the members of the court were here as representatives of the whole people, that the people established the court of impeachment in the beginning, and that now other than the people had a right to remove their representatives while they were the save else.

The scene within the court room was vastly different from that presented yesterday. Less than half the seats in the gallery were occupied at the opening of the arguments and at no time were all the seats filled.

Prospects of a witness being sworn soon after the impeachment articles were read brought a larger crowd late in the day.

Garrison was remanded to the institution by the senate at the opening of the State Assembly for refusal to answer questions asked him by the speaker following arrest on charges of contempt.

The charge grew out of his alleged statement that four legislators sold their votes on the resolution impeaching Governor Sulzer.

Thanks by the Sulzer faction were to obtain a writ of habeas corpus from the supreme court for the release of Garrison.

Majority Leader Fox said that such action would be impossible as the assembly had plenary power to punish for contempt.

Court Ruling Cited.

The appellate court now holds in a similar case several years ago.

If the courts should hold this view Garrison might be held in prison until January when a new legislative session convenes. The alleged offense is unobtainable.

J. W. Roberts of the Buena Vista
Lodge and Savings Co. Alleged to be Short.

Atlanta, Ga. Sept. 19.—Detectives are looking for J. W. Roberts, former president of the Buena Vista Lodge and Savings Company of Buena Vista, Ga.

His wife is here with a son. This son says that his father is not guilty of taking the $11,000 from the institution and that it is a plot against him. He said, however, that he had not seen or heard of his father in a month.

Young Roberts said his father owned property in Marion county that would pay the alleged shortage twice over. Roberts whereabouts are unknown.

THE OTHER SIDE

Editor Dothan Eagle.
Dear Sir:

As a recent visitor to your city I would like to make a few remarks and offer some suggestions that may be of benefit to your community.

You have a magnificent section of land that is needed to make a city of your size.

It is a large and magnificent section of land that is needed to make a city of your size.

This proposition has two sides. First, the wealth is a great calamity when it reaches a community totally unprepared for it.

Second, it is an unequalled blessing to any section that has prepared for it.

It seems to me your people have overworked the calamity side to the exclusion of the other.

Adaptation of the people kind is certainly a difficult task, but it is the only intelligent and directed thing the proper thing is to do.

The wealth does not stand the raising of cotton. It is a great calamity when it reaches a community totally unprepared for it.

INSANE MURDER BY

MINES HIS HOME, KILLING TWO

Bloomington Ind., Sept. 19.—

Max Hurst, 50 years old, a stone mason, early today blew up his home here with dynamite, killing himself and his 17 year-old daughter Maudie, seriously injuring two other daughters, Fannie, 15, and Elizabeth, 6, and stunning his wife.

Hurst had been separated from his wife for six weeks and yesterday he refused to take his leave. It is believed that he then, in a fit of insanity, determined to kill his entire family, consisting of his wife and eight children.

The dead girl met the fate intended for her mother and the fact that they had changed beds for the night cost the daughter her life.

Hurst, after stealthily planting a stick of dynamite under each of the three beds in the house, tied two sticks to his body and crawled into bed which he had formerly occupied with his wife but which last night contained the three daughters, Maudie, Fannie and Elizabeth.

Fannie heard her father getting into the bed and spoke to him. "Lie still," Hurst replied. "We will all die together."

Before the girl could move the explosion rent the house and crashed into the city. The police and fire departments rushed to the scene, removed the bodies of Hurst and one daughter and sent the two injured girls to the hospital.

Four sticks of dynamite, unexploded, were found in the ruins, and the fact that only one, and that one attached to Hurst's body, had exploded, accounted for the escape of the other members of the family.

The cause of the explosion was the city. Police and firemen hastened to the scene and began a search of the ruins. The bodies of Hurst and his dead daughter were found in the rear of the house.

The two other daughters were in another part of the ruins.

Hurst had been recently declared insane by the examining board. It was not thought, however, that his insanity was of the kind to make him violent.

LESSON TEXT

16 And Moses turned and went down from the mount and the two tables of the testimony were in his hand the tables were written on both their sides on the one side and on the other were they written.

16 And the tables were the work of God, and the writing was the writing of God, graven upon the tables.

17 And when Joshua heard the noise of the people as they shouted he said unto Moses, There is a noise of war in the camp.

18 And he said it is not the voice of them that shout for mastery neither is it the voice of them that cry for being overcome but the voice of them that sing do I hear.

19 And it came to pass, as soon as he came nigh unto the camp that he saw the calf and the dancing and Moses anger waxed hot and he cast the tables out of his hands and brake them beneath the mount.

20 And he took the calf which they had made, and burnt it in the fire and ground it to powder and strewed it upon the water, and made the children of Israel drink of it.

20 And it came to pass on the morrow that Moses said unto the people Ye have sinned a great sin and now I will go up unto the Lord peradventure I shall make an atonement for your sin.

21 And Moses returned unto the Lord, and said O Lord, this people have sinned a great sin, and have made them gods of gold.

22 Yet now if thou wilt forgive their sin— if not blot me I pray thee out of thy book which thou hast written.

23 And the Lord said unto Moses Whosoever hath sinned against me him will I blot out of my book.

24 Therefore now go lead this people unto the place of which I have spoken unto thee: behold mine angel shall go before thee, notwithstanding the sin which I vis- it will visit their sin upon them.

25 And the Lord plagued the people because they made the calf which Aaron made.
